

STAFF COUNSELING AND DISCIPLINE POLICY

POLICY STATEMENT

SCOPE

This policy applies to the Pinemont Pre-School committee (employer) and all employees.

In implementing this policy, the employer will act in accordance with the requirement specified under relevant awards, industrial agreements or legislation, and in a fair and equitable manner.

Employees are to act in accordance with this policy.

All employees and member of the committee need to be aware of the policy and its contents.

The committee will provide a copy of the policy to:

- All current employees
- All new employees as part of orientation process
- All committee members when policy adopted and as part of the handover process each year.

The committee will determine whether it is necessary to take action under this policy in relation to:

- Counselling procedures
- Disciplinary procedures, including the handling of unacceptable conduct by employees.

PURPOSE

The purpose of this policy is to state how Pinemont Pre-School committee will deal with problems or concerns about an employee's work performance or conduct.

Pinemont Pre-School encourages regular and open discussions between employees and committee. If issues related to employee work performance or conduct remain unresolved, they will be addressed by Pinemont Pre-School committee through a procedure that commences with counselling before proceeding to a formal and structural discipline procedure.

Open communication are encouraged between the Pinemont Pre-School committee and the employee, in order to ensure that matters of concern are dealt with promptly, and in an appropriate and effective manner.

The right of all parties to confidentiality will be respected. The procedures set out in this policy will be implemented within the context of rights and obligations on both Pinemont Pre-School committee and employees under relevant awards, industrial agreements or legislation.

This policy sets out the procedures and guidelines for:

1. Work performance counselling
2. Disciplinary procedures, including the handling of unacceptable conduct by employees.

PROCEDURES AND OUTCOMES

PROCEDURES

4.1 CONFLICT OF INTEREST

Committee members, who may have lodged a complaint or have been interviewed as a witness, will refrain from involvement in the discussion or decision making processes relating to the complaint or performance issues or participating in the subcommittee investigating the issues or implementing the action.

4.2 INVESTIGATION AND VERIFICATION OF ISSUES RAISED

In relation to work performance counselling and the disciplinary procedure, including the termination of employment, the committee will ensure that the issues and concerns to be raised with employees can be substantiated. This includes identifying appropriate and specific examples of those issues or concerns prior to any action being taken.

All complaints or grievances must be put in writing so that the Grievance Committee members can fully understand the basis and terms of the complaint. Any grievance can be discussed with the Grievance Committee, no matter how sensitive the complainant may feel the issue may be. The Committee cannot act upon “anonymous” complaints though the identity of the complainant will be held in strict confidentiality from other committee members and the pre-school community.

The committee delegates authority to the President to appoint any three committee members (one of whom is the President) to a subcommittee to conduct an investigation in order to verify the validity of the issues and concerns to be raised. This investigation would take place prior to the committee authorising any action, including approval for work performance counselling, the issuing of warnings or the termination of employment.

Where complaints have been received in relation to the actions or performance of employees, the individual employee concerned will be given the opportunity to rebut or reply to the contents of the complaint as part of that investigation.

This subcommittee will act promptly on any complaint and undertake an immediate investigation, when it has completed its investigation, provide a report to the committee.

4.3 COMMITTEE APPROVAL

4.3.1 Committee decision making

No work performance counselling or the issuing of warnings or the termination of employment, will occur without the prior approval of the committee. This decision will be made at a committee meeting and all committee members will respect the confidentiality of the information discussed.

4.3.2 Implementation of action

After the committee has decided what action to be taken, a subcommittee, or committee representatives, will be appointed by the committee to meet with the employee/s concerned and to implement the action in relation to counselling, disciplinary action and termination of employment in line with this policy. Meetings with employees will occur in accordance with the guidelines set out in point 5 “Guidelines for meeting with employees” of this policy.

4.4 WORK PERFORMANCE COUNSELLING PROCEDURE

4.4.1 Purpose of counselling

This counselling procedure will not apply in situations where there is conduct by the employee that justifies immediate disciplinary action, which may result in a warning or termination of employment.

The counselling procedure is intended as a positive exercise, to facilitate communication, and to assist the employee to address matters related to their work performance or conduct, and for the employer to clearly define what they see as the requirement of the position, while, employees will be given every opportunity to outline their position. It provides an opportunity for the employer and employee to discuss, and attempt to resolve, problems or concerns relating to an employee's work performance, without needing to issue a warning.

In the event that issues relating to an employee's work performance or conduct are not resolved within the time frame provided, the matters would be dealt with under the disciplinary procedure.

4.4.2 Counselling procedure

The employee must be notified in writing of the date, time and venue of the counselling meeting, the nature of issues to be discussed and given the option to have a support person present.

The employer will meet with the employee to discuss identified areas of concern related to the employee's work performance or conduct. Discussions should identify what changes or outcomes are required in order to address the concerns raised by the employer. During the counselling meeting, both the employer and employee should listen to, and carefully consider, the views, reasoning and explanation provided to them by the other party.

The general content of the counselling meeting, and any specific outcomes and the timelines for these to be achieved, will normally be recorded in writing, a copy of which will be kept by the employer, and a copy given to the employee.

4.5 DISCIPLINE PROCEDURE

4.5.1 Purpose of the discipline procedure

The discipline procedure is intended to address areas of concern related to the employee's performance or conduct, through a formal structured process within reasonable timelines, using relevant strategies for conflict resolution and a process of evaluation/review.

As part of the discipline procedure the employee will be given a warning, issued in writing as well as verbally, after a meeting between the employer and employee convened to discuss the area of concern relating to the employee's work performance or conduct. It is important for employees to understand that the discipline procedure normally consists of two warnings and if necessary will end in termination of employment where the performance or conduct of an employee fails to meet the required standard within appropriate timelines. Conduct, which falls within the scope of unacceptable behaviour that justifies disciplinary actions, may also result in termination of employment.

4.5.2 Discipline procedure

The employee will be notified in writing of the date of the disciplinary meeting and the issues of concern. Employees may request the attendance of a union representative or other support person at the disciplinary meeting, where this is consistent with relevant federal award or industrial agreement.

During the disciplinary meeting, both the employer and employee should listen to and carefully consider the views, reasoning and explanation provided to them by the other party. The general content of the disciplinary meeting, and the specific outcomes, will be recorded in writing by the employer and a copy given to the employee. Records of disciplinary procedures and the issuing warnings will be kept on the personnel file normally for a period of 12 months, after which, if there are no further warnings, they will be removed and either destroyed or returned to the employee at the discretion of the employer.

The employer will respect the right of the employee to request in writing, a review of the decision to issue a warning in light of additional information provided by the employee.

The employer will abide by any obligations relating to the disciplinary procedures, including maintain employee entitlements, contained in any relevant industrial agreement, to which the employer is a respondent party.

Point 5 of this policy herein contains some guidelines for meetings between employers and employees convened as part of this procedure.

4.5.3 Unacceptable conduct by employees

The employer is required to promote an environment that is free of any harassment, intimidation or abuse. Staff shall not treat children, parents, visitors or other employees in a manner involving any form of harassment, intimidation or any treatment of a demeaning, threatening or abusive manner. Staff will at all times act in accordance with the requirements of the Children's Services Act 1996, Children's Services Regulations 2009.

Conduct, which falls within the scope of unacceptable behaviour that justifies disciplinary action, which may result in termination of employment, including instant dismissal, includes but is not limited to:

- Verbal abuse or threats
- Any form of physical abuse or corporal punishment
- Remarks which could be seen as offensive or constitute sexual harassment
- Intimidatory behaviour
- Treatment, particularly of children, that involves frightening, threatening or demeaning techniques
- A serious breach of the Children's Services Act 1996 or Children's Services Regulation 2009.

These include:

- Failing to take every reasonable precaution to protect children from any hazard likely to cause injury
- Failing to ensure that any child is adequately supervised
- Subjecting children to any form of corporal punishment
- Any discipline of children which is unreasonable in the circumstance
- Endangering the health and safety of the children
- Fraud and theft which are totally unacceptable
- Attendance at work while under the influence of alcohol or non-prescription drugs which is totally unacceptable.

In the event of a suspected breach of this policy related to unacceptable conduct, an investigation of the suspected breach will be undertaken by the employer as soon as possible, giving consideration to the relevant circumstances. The committee delegates authority to the President to decide whether a suspected breach of this policy has occurred, and the President will appoint two committee members (one of whom may be the President) to a subcommittee to conduct the investigation. The subcommittee would report their findings back to the committee.

Where the employer has reasonable grounds to conclude that a breach of this policy may have occurred, the employee may be suspended from duty without loss of ordinary pay, pending an investigation. The committee delegates to the president the authority for any decision relating to the standing down/suspension of employees with pay, pending an investigation.

The employee will be given an opportunity to respond to the matters raised, before the employer makes any final decision.

The committee will meet as soon as possible after the investigation has been completed and based on the report received from the subcommittee will decide action to be taken, and refer this to a subcommittee for implementation.

The employer will notify the employee of the outcome of the investigation and any decision or actions to be taken by the employer.

5. GUIDELINES FOR MEETING WITH EMPLOYEES

The following are guidelines for meeting held with employees as part of the Staff Counselling and Discipline Policy.

5.1 Convening a meeting with employees

The procedures in this policy may necessitate meetings between a subcommittee or committee members appointed by the committee and employees to discuss or address issues of concern. The following are guidelines for the conduct of these meetings.

5.1.1 During the meeting with employees

- The subcommittee/committee members will define the employee's work performance issues or conduct that are of concern and refer as appropriate to the employee's position description.
- When appropriate the subcommittee/committee members will provide details to the employee of specific instances where there has been failure to comply with requirements relating to work performance or conduct.
- The employee will be given an opportunity to comment on and explain their own view of the work performance issues or conduct.
- The subcommittee/committee members will outline outcomes the committee requires in relation to the particular work performance issues or conduct.
- Employees may request the attendance of a union representative at a warning meeting where this is consistent with a relevant federal award or industrial agreement.

5.2 Record of meetings

Where appropriate, the content and any specific outcomes or requirements identified during the meeting with the employee will be recorded in writing by the subcommittee/committee members and a copy given to the employees as part of the discipline procedure, an appropriate written record of the meeting will be prepared by the subcommittee/committee members and a copy given to the employee.

OUTCOMES

- The employer will clearly identify and inform the employee of particular outcomes and/or changes required, and the timelines in which they are to be achieved, so that the employee can address issues related to work performance or conduct. At the same time, the employer will address any issues, which have directly impacted the employees work performance or conduct that were raised by the employee and have them reviewed by the Committee.
- The subcommittee/committee members all clearly identify and inform the employee of necessary requirements and/or changes so that the employee can address issues related to work performance or conduct.
- The subcommittee/committee members will consider any requests made by the employee for appropriate and affordable training, or support that could be of assistance to the employee.
- Where appropriate a review date will be set to monitor and review required outcomes.

DEFINITIONS

Counselling procedure - a method of dealing with work performance of an employee through discussion between the employer and employee without recourse to the discipline procedure

Discipline procedure - a formal procedure normally consisting of one or more warnings and, if warranted, can result in termination of employment.

Employer -for the purpose of this policy refers to a legally constituted committee or employing body.

Unacceptable conduct - behaviour for an employee that justifies disciplinary action, which may include termination of employment, including termination without notice or pay in lieu.

Warning - is a formal discipline procedure issued both verbally and in writing.

SOURCES AND RELATED POLICIES

SOURCES

- Work Performance Counselling Meeting Information Kit. This is available on request from KPV.
- KPV industrial relation advisers will provide advice and support when required.

RELATED POLICIES

- Code of Conduct Policy
- Occupational Violence and Aggression Policy
- Staff Grievance Policy
- Staff Health and Wellbeing Policy
- Staffing Policy

EVALUATION

In order to assess whether this policy has achieved the purposed outlined in this policy under point 3 - Policy, the committee will:

- Obtain feedback from employees and committee members on the effectiveness of the policy
- Assess whether the issues dealt with under the policy were resolved.

AUTHORISATION

This policy was adopted by the approved provider of Pinemont Pre-School on 15/04/2024.

REVIEW DATE: 15/04/2025